

LITIGATION

Johnson & Associates has earned a distinguished reputation by representing our clients' interests aggressively, successfully and in a cost-effective manner. Johnson & Associates provides a full range of litigation services to institutional, corporate and individual clients.

Providing sound pre-litigation, negotiation, counseling and settlement strategies are of equal importance to what ultimately occurs in a court room. Our attorneys excel in mediation, and arbitration, as well as trial and appellate practice. We practice in state and federal courts.

Our focus is always on the specific needs and goals of the particular client. These goals can be achieved through problem solving and creative resolution. When disputes cannot be resolved, our attorneys are well prepared to fight hard, protect you as the client, and reach a successful conclusion to the litigation.

Let Johnson & Associates represent you in the most practical and efficient manner, for all your litigation needs.

APPEALS:

Our legal system is not perfect. Courts sometimes make serious errors in civil cases. If you believe you received an unfair result in a civil case, or have won and are facing an appeal from the opposing party, Johnson & Associates can protect your rights in appellate court.

Johnson & Associates has the knowledge and experience to help you obtain the result you need. We can provide a fresh perspective on your civil case and maximize your chances of securing a favorable outcome in the appellate court.

Unlike many other firms who simply "handle" appellate matters, we provide a superior level of insight to our clients, giving you the edge in the appellate courtroom. Whether you are filing an appeal or defending against your adversaries, we know the appellate courts and can provide you with the expertise you need during this uncertain time of your litigation.